Facts

According to <https://ourworldindata.org/gender-ratio> the sex ratio – the share of the population that is female – varies across the world. And globally in 2017 the share of women in the world was 49.6%.

Women's rights are human rights. All women have the right to feel empowered, confident, safe and valued, and to never be sorry. All women have the right to be comfortable and live without any fear of emotional or physical abuse, harassment, humiliation, intimidation, suffering or discrimination.

More Facts

Women of all abilities, ages, colours, creed, inclinations, shapes and sizes are individuals, entitled to be treated with dignity, respect and decency. It's not appropriate to do anything other than to Treat Women Right.

As individuals, we all have feelings and emotional needs.

Statistics
